

A vertical grey bar containing a sequence of 12 empty rectangular boxes for writing a phone number. The boxes are arranged in three groups of three, with a short vertical black line separating the first and second groups, and another separating the second and third groups.

A vertical grey bar containing a sequence of 12 empty rectangular boxes for writing a phone number. The boxes are arranged in three groups of three, with a short vertical black line separating the first and second groups, and another separating the second and third groups.